

```
function ValidateSignup() { if (document.getElementById('idEmail').value.replace(/^[^s+|s+$|g, ""].length == 0) { alert("Please enter your email address."); document.getElementById('idEmail').focus(); return false; } else if (document.getElementById('idFirstName').value == "") { alert("Please enter your First Name."); document.getElementById('idFirstName').focus(); return false; } else if (document.getElementById('idLastName').value == "") { alert("Please enter your Last Name."); document.getElementById('idLastName').focus(); return false; } else if (document.getElementById('idZip').value == "") { alert("Please enter your Zip Code."); document.getElementById('idZip').focus(); return false; }
else { return true; } }
```

1. How important is it to reduce our national debt?

It's the most important obstacle facing the federal government

Important, but not as important as job creation

Important, but not as important as health care reform

It is not a factor that should be at the top of our legislative agenda

2. What is the best way to reduce our national debt? (check all that apply)

Three-year non-discretionary spending freeze (lock in spending levels for all non-defense r Oversight of often unaccounted for tax expenditures (for example, if the governme

Pass health care reform and regulate greenhouse gases to reduce future spending

Enact pay-as-you-go legislation, which says government can't spend a dollar unles

Smarter, more streamlined defense funding that does not include equipment the P

Reform social security spending and public pension programs

3. What is your biggest worry about the long-term debt?

Unable to pay for social security and Medicare for baby boomer generation

Won't be able to react to future crises

Weakening of the dollar

Higher taxes to account for deficits

Decrease in private investment

Forced cutback in government services

*

Email:

*

First Name:

*

Last Name:

*

Zip:

Join Mike's Green Team and receive only paperless correspondence.
Send me e-mail updates from Congressman Mike Quigley.

*

indicate required fields.

All responses will be kept confidential.

 Participating will sign you up for the e-newsletter.*